

Dear Youths,

We wrote this letter to let you all know that the need for patience and calm before making life-altering decisions is a must. It encourages us to not let our emotions and hormones get the better of it and then rue the consequences. I want you all to know that the longevity of life and not letting youthful mistakes become the burden of old age. We must be informed that the trials of marriage and that it demands sacrifices which should be willing to offer if the marriage is based on trust and love. I advise to all of the youths to think hard about your decisions in life because you may regret it forever.

Sincerely,

Organizations for youth
